THE PEGÉ

1971

Volume XLI

A school can be only what its students and faculty make it. West Nottingham Academy has succeeded because it is made of people willing to work together, yet strong enough to maintain their individualism. Nottingham's variety of faces makes for a fascinating and more fulfilling life. Be singular; step to the music which YOU hear.

". . . this spring of 1971 will never be forgotten."

Pegé: Considering all the tension among today's youth, do you feel that the Nottingham student body has stood together as a unit?
Mr. Farnlof: There are many tensions facing your generation. I think they call for an answer to their terrific challenge, and I'd say that the West Nottingham student body, as a whole, has remained a group of questioning, challenging students, facing these tensions. Indeed, they have challenged us in our ideas and positions. I feel that they have remained pretty much a strong unit.

Pegé: Do you see a definite identity problem because of student use of drugs?
Mr. Farnlof: In terms of the crisis that occurred in our life this year, and I don't think any of us can quite forget this—it is quite a big event as it marked your senior year, this spring of 1971 will never be forgotten. It is a part of your chapter. Certainly, there was a group here, and there will probably continue to be a group, who feel, particularly in terms of marijuana usage, that we can never be identified as a faculty group with them because we simply reject the need for this kind of agent to make life bearable or to expand life or to get excited about life. We simply do not understand it. I suppose this group will always feel a certain antagonism from us. They feel that we do not understand them, and, therefore, they will not accept us anymore than we can accept them in terms of the position they stand for. It is an unfortunate thing. I think it has created a split in our life—there's no question about it. I think the split has been in the making for two or three years. Our position here has been made clear by our meetings with students. As a school, this is an unchangeable, unshakable position, and as long as we are firm about this, I suppose those who disagree with it, in terms of young people, will never feel quite as fully accepted here as others. There will be antagonism.

Pegé: Do you feel Nottingham is better because of what happened this spring?
Mr. Farnlof: From the school's point of view, I must say yes. I feel that the school has stated clearly what it does stand for. We have re-evaluated our total life here. We had a meeting with the students as a result of this crisis. We have now been made more aware of our own operational weaknesses, and I think the next step now is for us to take advantage of the open, frank discussions we have had with the students to improve our own life here at the Academy. I feel that since the crisis we have become a stronger school and more clearly directed.

Pegé: What do you think about the future of the Academy?
Mr. Farnlof: I feel much more optimistic about our future here as a result of the recent crisis that forced us to do some clear thinking about our weaknesses and our strengths. I think that as a result of that period of self-evaluation we are a strong and united community once again. I believe that our future is bright.

Board Of Trustees

The Board of Trustees is the final governing body of the Academy. The men of the Board give much of their time in guiding the Academy into the changing future. These men bring to the three meetings held each year the knowledge which they have gained through their various professions. This year saw the death of one of the long-time members of the Board: Mr. Norman H. Anderson, Treasurer, whose duties were assumed by Mr. J. Albert Roney. Two new members were added to the Board, Mr. Stuart N. Hutchison Jr. and Mr. Robert A. Matteson.

Dedication

During the 1959-1960 school year, two new faculty members were added to the Academy family. Assigned housing and dormitory duty in Magraw, they developed a camaraderie which has lasted through their years of service here at the Academy. Together during these years they have given unselfishly of their time and efforts not only in the classroom or office but also in the capacity of friend and advisor to various organizations as well as to individual students. And so it is with great pleasure and sincere appreciation for the contributions each has made to the welfare of the Academy over the last twelve years, that the Senior Class of 1971 dedicates this the forty-first edition of the Pegé to

KENNETH E. DIETRICH

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of the earth's beauty, or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction."

Robert H. McClester
1927-1970

The 1971 Pegé Staff wishes to express its appreciation of the services rendered to the Academy by Norman H. Anderson. A long-time resident and businessman of the community, Mr. Anderson was elected to the Board of Trustees of West Nottingham Academy in October of 1950 and served as president of the Board for a number of years. At the time of his death on January 1, 1971 he was serving as Treasurer of the Board and Business Manager. His continued interest in the Academy brought it through many difficult times.

The yearbook organization is one of the most important activities on campus. Since a yearbook lasts for years after graduation, it is the duty of the Pegé staff to turn out a book the represents as much of the school year as possible. Although some of the deadlines were just barely met, the work seemed easier because of the good-natured atmosphere of the meetings. Mr. Dietrich and Mr. Funk proved to be more than capable sponsors. A special thanks goes to Mr. Joseph Selich, Intercollegiate Press Association representative for the Pegé, who worked closely with the staff on all aspects of production.

Canteen Club

This year the Canteen Club did a fantastic job of maintaining the quality of service of previous years despite the small number of active members on the roll. The annual Club dinner was again held in April at the fabulous Latin Casino outside of Philadelphia. Smokey Robinson and the Miracles were the main entertainment at the supper club for this exciting evening. Mr. C. Herbert Foutz, Club advisor, deserves much credit for helping keep the Canteen the most popular hangout on campus.

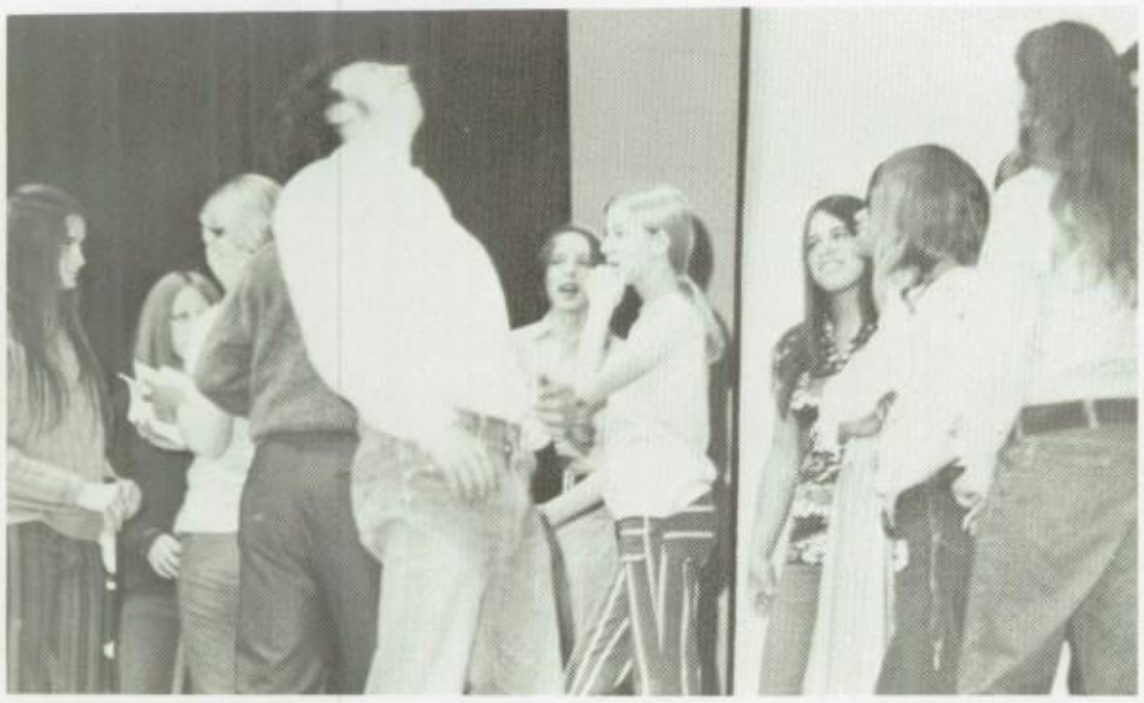
Chorus

The Nottingham Chorus, directed by Mr. Ronald Black, held its first spring musical, "Little Mary Sunshine". The chorus met regularly on Thursday nights and often on Mondays and Tuesdays. Plans for next year include another musical and perhaps an appearance at the Cecil County Community College.



"Ben, it wasn't that funny."

"It's gotta be one of these . . ."

STANDING: Killius, Parker, J. Lynch, Pyecroft. SITTING: Peters, Strickland, Fournier, Sh. Sayin, Taylor, Witman, President.

Student Senate

The Student Senate, led by John Witman, was represented by two members from each class. The senate worked to coordinate ideas between the students and the administration. Although slow in getting started, they finished up the year with a record breaking carnival, which hopefully will become a tradition for the Student Senate to uphold at Nottingham.

National Honor Society

This year nine new members were inducted into the Talisman Chapter of the National Honor Society. These members are Nottingham's top representatives of academic achievements. Although academic achievement is important, leadership, character, and service are also important qualities upon which membership is based.

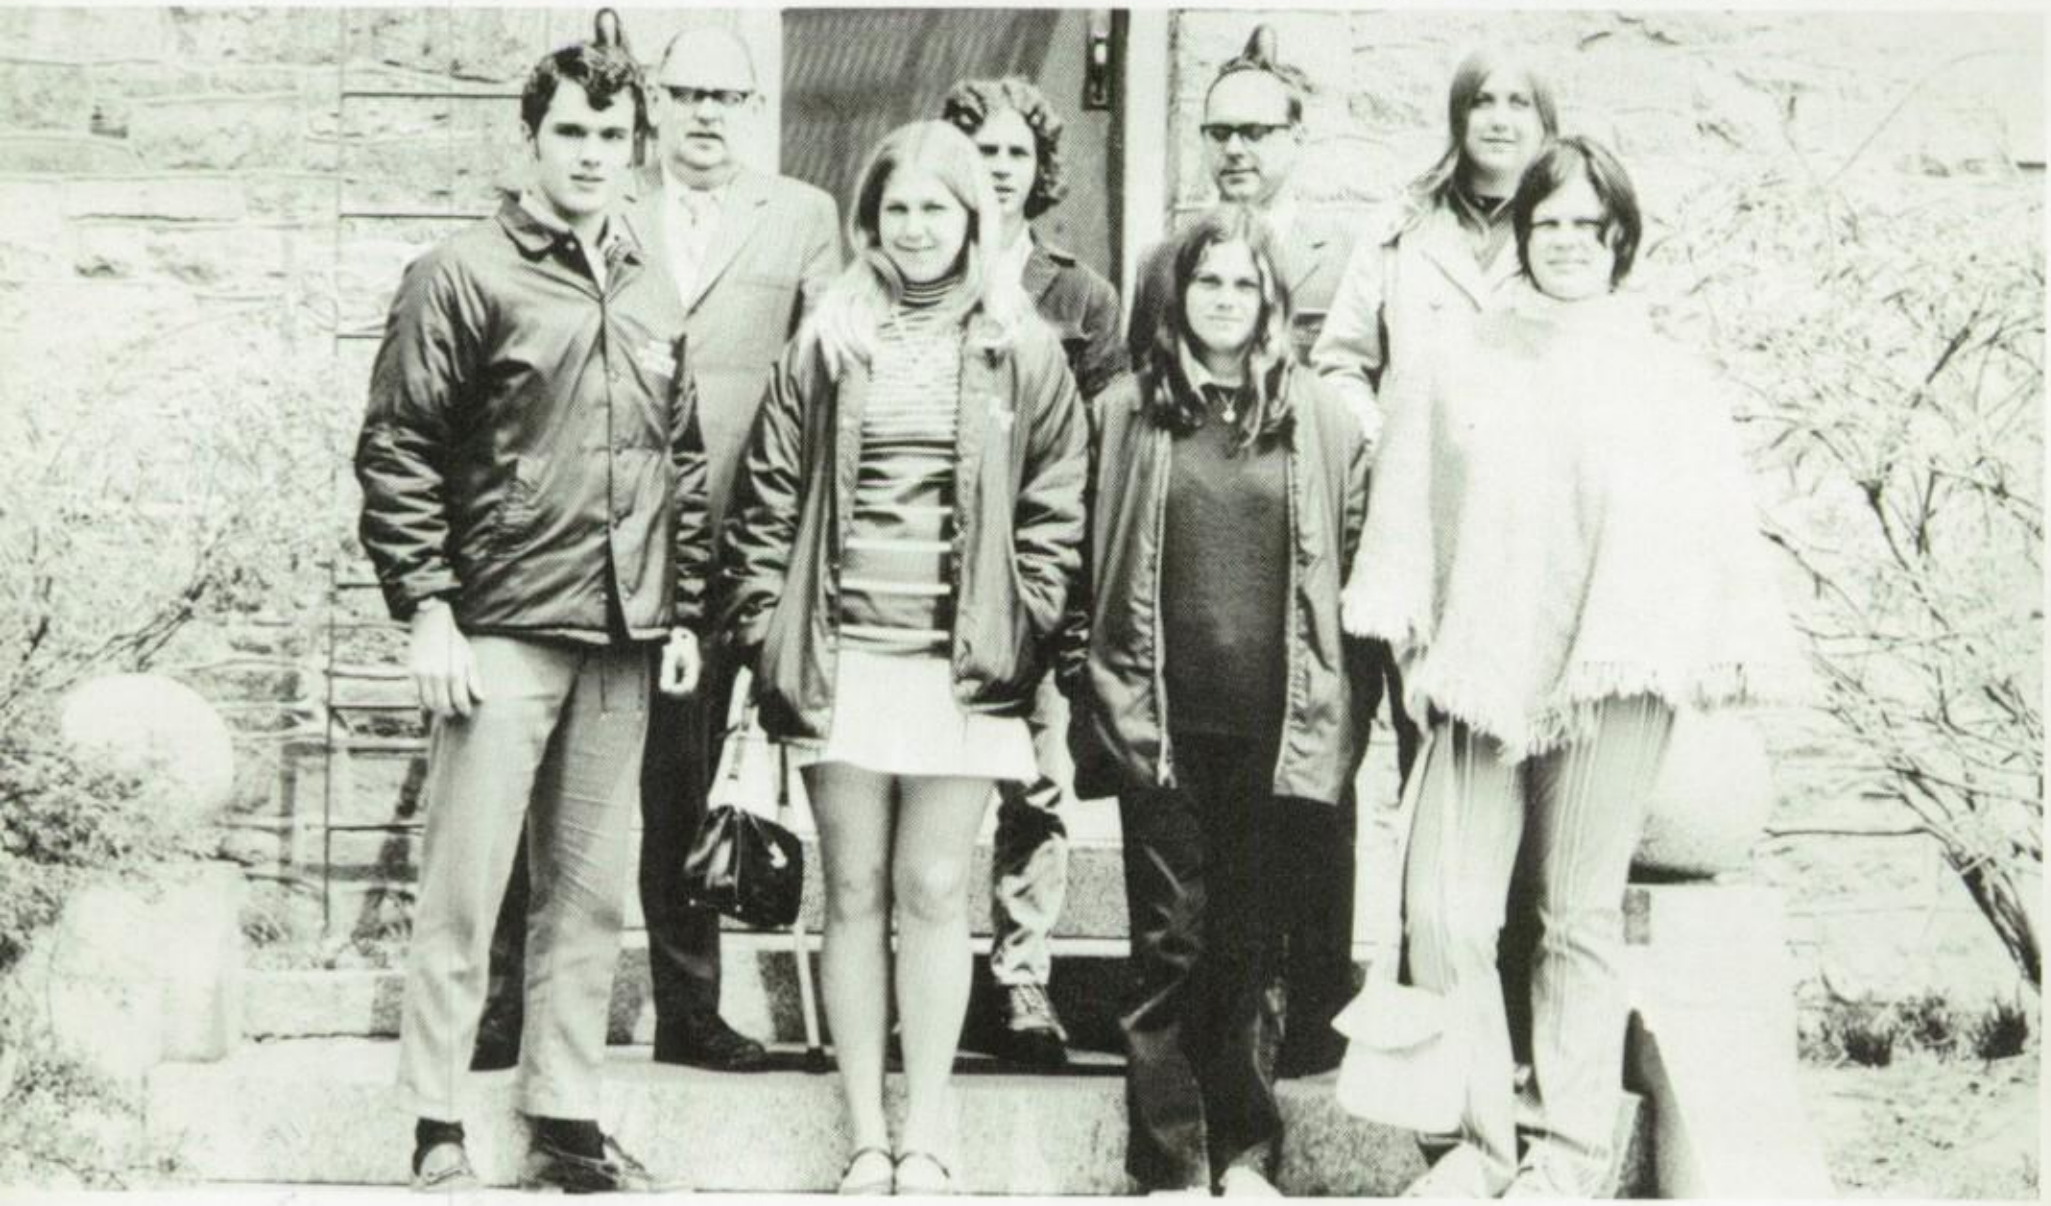
Arrow

This year's Arrow staff was given the opportunity to express their views on some of the more controversial ideas of today. Under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Badenhoop, those students interested in journalism learned how to put their writing and editing skills to good use. The two papers that were published this year showed that the students did indeed have an active and constructive interest in this organization.

Bonnett, Taylor, Brown, C. Badenhoop, Mr. and Mrs. Badenhoop (Advisors), Bratton, S. Lynch, Newman, Roberts.

Chapel Committee

The Chapel Committee's services are many and varied. It is responsible for the morning prayer and assists with the Sunday evening Chapel services. In addition to handling the Christmas Chapel, a few members attended the Buck Hills Falls conference to discuss religious ideas with others. The Chapel Committee has worked successfully to bring an awareness of the Christian way of life to the Academy family.



FIRST ROW: Witman, Taylor, L. Picken, Tarr. SECOND ROW: Mr. Farnlof (Advisor), J. Picken, Rev. Yuninger (Advisor), Longley.

Woodshop Club

Tarr, J. Picken, Roberts, Anderson, Mr. Miller (Advisor), Land, Love.

The basement of the Canteen serves as the location for the Woodshop Club inaugurated this year. Here students get involved in some big and some very difficult projects. Lamps, bookshelves and cutting boards were popular items with those handy with tools other than hammer and saw. Mike Love's mahogany speed boat was undoubtedly the biggest successful endeavor this year. Through the efforts of the Club advisor, Mr. Clarence Miller, and student advisor, Jeff Picken, the Woodshop was open to club members during their free time.

Trapshooting

KNEELING: Strickland, Horsmon. STANDING: Mr. Heim (Advisor), Blass, Hayes, Land.

Trapshooting, a sport that evolved from the Contact Program, is well led by Mr. Roger Heim. It is an exciting sport which develops skills, accuracy, an alert body, and a quick mind in field hunting. The students show their appreciation for this sport by sacrificing their Saturdays to shoot trap in the fields surrounding the campus.

Contact Program

The Contact Program continued into its second year with an expanded number of more varied selections from which to choose. The Contact Program offers a welcomed break from a week of classroom studies for faculty and students, each of whom is able to cultivate his interests along with his academic pursuits. Some of the new additions were Mrs. Zook's needlecraft and leatherworking, Mrs. Funk's typing, Mr. Ray's readers' theatre, Mr. Dietrich and Mr. Holloway's photography, and Mr. and Mrs. Badenhoop's Thirties.

Young at Heart!

Wilmington Tutoring Project

Each Wednesday night, a group of active, interested students from West Nottingham participate in tutoring eager students from the Wilmington, Delaware, Public Schools. These tutees need special help in basic arithmetic skills and social studies. Mr. Alan Baxter, advisor, first introduced this project to West Nottingham in the fall of 1969. It has expanded to include two churches, First and Olivet and Church of Our Savior. The project was so well received that many students continued tutoring this fall.

"I don't know why 1+1=2, it just is!"

Witman, Horsmon, Strickland, Mr. Holloway, Mr. Dietrich, (Advisors), Fournier, Logue, S. McWilliams, Hutcheson.

Photography Club

This year's Photography Club is in a large part responsible for the photographs in the yearbook. All work except formal yearbook pictures was produced by the members of the Photography Club. The photography program gained new impetus this year from the Contact Program offered by Mr. Holloway and Mr. Dietrich. After twenty-four hours of work, a number of students were able to function quite well in this painstaking activity.

FIRST ROW: Strickland, Lockhart, Taylor, Thompson, C. Badenhoop. SECOND ROW: Mrs. Spiro (Advisor), S. Sayin, Killius, Pavelka, Schor. Sh. Sayin, Logue, Tarr, Brown, Jackson, Zink, Gilbert.

Girls' Athletic Association

Led by Mrs. Mary Spiro, the Girls' Athletic Association met in September to discuss ways to raise money for the athletic fund. The ideas discussed were good, but like everything else, there just wasn't time to carry them out. Through Moe's Pizza and Sub Shop, the G.A.A. sold pizza slices, hot dogs, and soft drinks to the football crowd on Parents' Day and Homecoming. Hopefully, the G.A.A. will be able to help the Student Senate promote a Spring Carnival—another first for Nottingham.

French Club

The French Club had few, but significant meetings. The club members listened to records and tapes and held discussions on foreign countries and the customs of the people.

Finley, Antroinen, Anderson, S. Sayin, Mr. Baranowski (Advisor), Bonnett, Strickland, Horsmon.

Riding Club

The Riding Club consists of a few students interested in the riding of and caring for horses. Each week, Mr. Robert VonBehr takes the group to Mrs. Watts' Golden Vein Farm in Harve de Grace for an enjoyable afternoon of riding.

Parker, Fusco, S. McWilliams, Kistler.

Right through the window!

"It's no wonder I'm undefeated."

Tennis Club

The 1971 tennis team, coached by Mr. Roger Heim, is in its third consecutive year. The team, the largest yet, with its twenty-five members, is well supported at its practice sessions and home matches by many spirited students. Lynn Zink, a senior, had the distinction of being undefeated in singles and doubles since the 1969 season. Scheduled matches include Sanford, Elkton, St. Francis in Lancaster and York Country Day School.

Cheerleaders

The 1970-71 cheerleading squad consisted of seven of the most energetic girls on campus. Each had the qualities necessary for a good cheerleader—agility, school spirit, and, of course, an interest in sports. The Homecoming Dance, annually sponsored by the cheerleaders, featured Nottingham's own Larry Carroll and his group. For Mrs. Mary Spiro, this was another active year with the cheerleaders.

"Don't you know agony when you see it?"

Football

The 1970 football team unveiled the first undefeated football squad since 1939 and the best in Nottingham's history. Led by Coach Jim Spiro and his coaching staff, the team worked their way to an 8-0 season. Shutting out four of their opponents and limiting the remaining teams to a mere forty points, the Rams scored an unprecedented total of 380 points. The performance of the Rams left a mark in Nottingham's history that will never be forgotten.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Coach Lough, Coach Spiro, Coach Thrash, Coach Schultheis.

Girls Hockey

The girls field hockey team, led by high scorers Polly Brown, Linda Gilbert, and Betsy Taylor, fought through five opposing teams to a 2-1-2 record. The girls lost only to York Country Day by a close score of 2-1. The team was coached by Mrs. Mary Spiro.

"Did we really do that?"

First Row: Logue, Gilbert. Second Row: Wineland, Jackson, Zink, Sh. Sayin, Richardson, Ament, Strickland. Third Row: Tarr, Thompson, Brown, S. Sayin, Taylor, Schor, Mrs. Spiro (Coach).

The girls' basketball team started off a good season with an easy 30-20 victory over Oxford. Even though the girls' did not win again until the last game, they had a well–supported home stint and were able to provide close, well–played games.

Boys' Basketball

Although the boys on the basketball team could not boast the undefeated season of the football squad, they showed the drive and determination typical of Nottingham sportsmen. The height of the season came when the Rams pulled out an impressive 50-49 victory over the District Champion Panthers from Perryville—a great victory to top off an otherwise disappointing season.

Baseball

Under the direction of Coach Thrash, this year's baseball team had its first winning season in five years, with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. Unfortunately, many members will be graduating this year, but quite a few underclassmen who did not see much action this season will be returning next season.

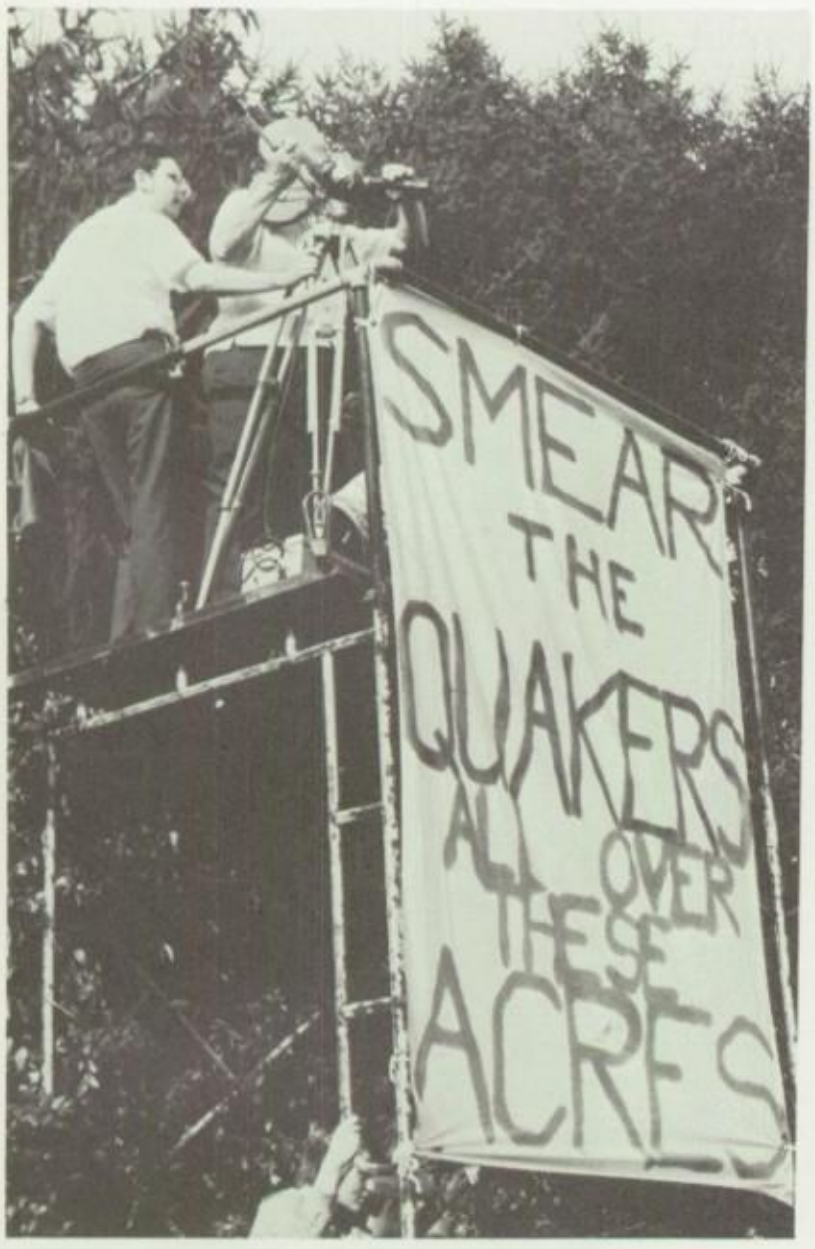
Homecoming

Just like old times!

The WNA Rams trounced the Quakers of Baltimore Friends, 42-0, while a record number of alumni joined loyal fans rooting for this year's winning football team on Homecoming Day 1970. Sue Strickland, a senior from Yardley, Pa., was crowned Homecoming Queen by Headmaster Norman C. Farnlof during half time ceremonies. The day was brought to a close with Nottingham's Cheerleaders sponsoring the Homecoming Dance in Ware Field House.



I hope they had their oats today.

"Is it real?"

Little Mary Sunshine

The spring performance of "Little Mary Sunshine" was the first musical to be staged at the Academy in at least its recent history. Despite the odds against the show—most of the cast had never been involved in a stage production, much less a musical—it was performed with enthusiasm on Parents' Day. Mr. Ronald Black directed the production, Mrs. Jan Yuninger was assistant director and Mrs. Betty Yerkes was the piano accompanist.

"Will this rehearsal EVER end?"

"I didn't think we'd have to work in a teepee."

Sports Banquet

This year, the annual Sports Banquet was held at the Bainbridge Naval Training Center for all those students who participated in interscholastic sports. The Master of Ceremonies for this year's affair was Peyton Schur, and his classic wit added to the success of the banquet. The students voted Lonnie Long and Polly Brown the two most valuable senior athletes—an honor, indeed.

"I'm proud of you all!"

"Dis is a really good pizza parlor."

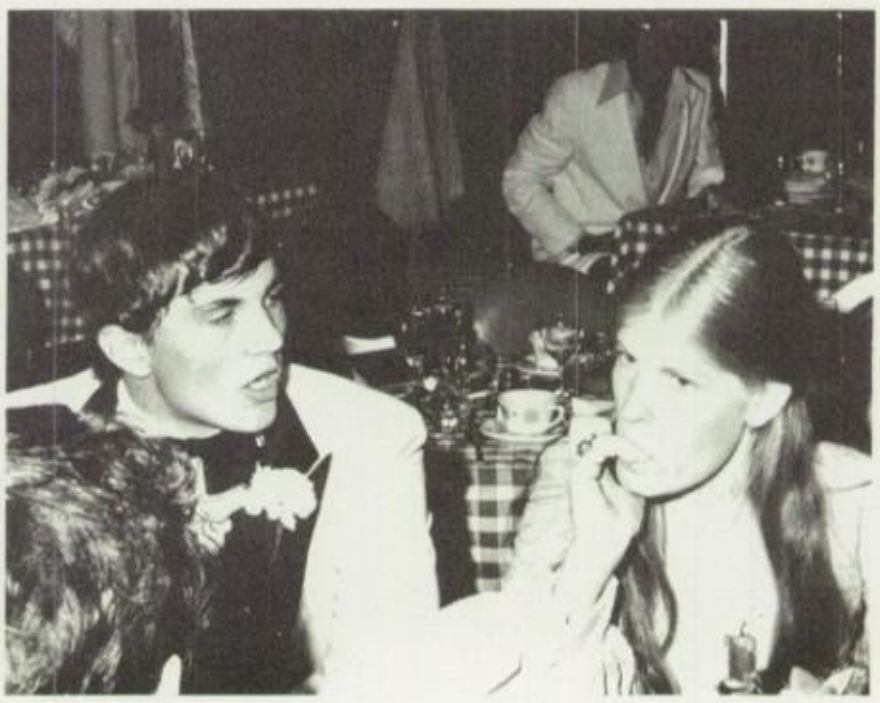
Senior Prom

This year the Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Class of W.N.A. was held Friday evening, May 21, 1971. The theme for this year's prom was Moulin Rouge, and the class did a fine job of turning the Holiday Inn of Aberdeen into a chic French cafe. There was a buffet dinner and dance from eight to twelve with music by The Blend.

"I do, I do!"

Rraannddyy . . .



The Student Senate made another first this year when they sponsored a street carnival strictly for the enjoyment of the student body. The carnival was one of the biggest and most active days of the year. Some of the events included, for afternoon activities, a coed football game, jousting, and a once-in-a-lifetime free-for-all in the lake. The events for the evening were relay races, booths, and a massive cook-out. This was truly a very successful, well-organized activity and the school hopes to be able to maintain it as an annual event.

Editor's Message

"If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

If we have learned anything during our years at West Nottingham Academy, we have discovered the wisdom and applicability of this quotation by Henry David Thoreau. The theme of this 1971 yearbook is indeed a most appropriate one for a year which has been marked by rapid transition.

For some of us, the music of life which we hear is loud and clamorous, and, for others, the music is soft and muted. For some of us, the beat is steady and sure as we move toward goals that are well defined and easily attainable. For others who may be uncertain and confused as to their future plans and objectives, the tempo may be irregular. Their music may change from a slow and halting measure to a rapid and staccato beat.

The important fact to remember is that the members of our graduating class are going to hear many different drummers—college, careers, military service, marriage, travel—each one of us must listen for our own beat and each one of us must allow our classmates to do the same.

One seldom finds a group of graduating seniors who hear the same music, but that is no reason for those who hear different tunes to isolate themselves from their peers. Let us not merely listen to our music, but let us march to it regardless of the pace we set.

At West Nottingham Academy we have learned the value of individualism, integrity, and respect for the differing ideas, interests, values, and codes of conduct of our classmates. Since one of the functions of a yearbook is to capture the essence of students "doing their own thing" and stepping to the tunes which have intrigued them, we have tried to provide a yearbook which accomplishes this goal.

Not only did the campus go through a period of transition, but so did the format of the Pegé. We have tried to revamp the style to make it more attractive to you. It is our hope that as you turn the pages now and in the future, you will remember with affection those companions and faculty members with whom you marched and the music you once heard at West Nottingham Academy.
